NEWFOUNDLAND AND CANADA.

A year ago our little neighbor Newfoundland wanted to make a treaty of commercial reciprocity with the United States. In such cases it is necessary for the imperial government in London to give its approval, but after passing favorably upon the original draft, the treaty itself was vetoed.

This waked up the little fishing island and her commissioners hurried over to England to know what was the matter and why they were snubbed after their work had practically been endorsed. It was discovered that the hand of the late Sir John McDonald was in the deal, he having convinced the imperial government that such a treaty on the part of Newfoundland would prejudice the efforts of the Dominion government in the same direction. The premier and the commissioner to the United States, Sir Charles Tupper, urged that Canada should be a party in the negotiations, and that the treaty should cover all existing or possible disputes between the United States and British America. The imperial government could not well oppose the wishes of the Canadian government in a matter that was so one sided as far as the contending parties were concerned, and indeed the argument seemed reasonable over there, however unjust it might be to the weaker province.

Then the provincial warfare took on a new aspect. The Newfoundlanders were convinced that the fight against them was partly for campaign purposes, as the Dominion government was at that time in a struggle that almost resulted in its overthrow, and Sir John feared that reciprocity between the States and Newfoundland would afford argument for the liberals. So the islanders put in force against Canada their bait act originally intended for the French, against whom Newfoundland has long waged a gritty warfare. Thus only United States vessels can now get bait on the island. In vain Canada appealed to the imperial government, and then put up her high tariff wall against Newfoundland fish. But the Newfoundland government also had power by a special legislative grant to retaliate in such cases, and immediately put a prohibitive duty on Canadian fish and other provisions. The little seaboard community, therefore, has the advantage in the fight, for the States will eat her fish and send her all the flour she wants.
Last year the island imported 30,000 barrels of flour, and now all Canadian orders have been canceled, thus throwing the business across the line.

The quarrel is in some ways unfortunate for the provinces, but if the agitation shall result in emphasizing the truth that all parts of the American continent will be blessed by commercial contact with the United States, and shall hurry on a consummation so devoutly wished by the people, it will have served a worthy purpose even though some provincial anguish be the immediate result.

WHICH IS THE LIAR?

The Superior Leader of this morning contains the following mild-mannered mention of one of our truthful cliff climbers:

Uriah Heap Thompson, secretary of the Duluth chamber of commerce, is by no means a first class liar, though no doubt he thinks he is.
He utters enough falsehoods, but they are truthful and absurd little lies—just like himself. He not only misrepresented Superior in the Detroit convention, but returns to his rocky shore and continues his falsehoods in the Duluth Herald.
For instance, he continues to insist publicly that the whalshack steamer Colgate Hoyt was built in Duluth. Thompson was a tolerable success as a census taker, but he is not a first class liar.

It matters little in itself whether the Colgate Hoyt was built in Duluth or Superior, the chief distinction of the dispute being in the profit afforded of the Annanas aversments made by our astute and morally unfettered contemporary, the only glory of whose town is that it is near Duluth and that the contents of its sewers flows both ways.

The Colgate Hoyt, as a matter of fact,
however, was built in the McDougall shipyard on Rices Point, having been in process of construction when the Standard company first illuminated the other bank of the bay with its octopus oil mixed with grease de bonus. As Rome was the Niobe of nations which she outlived, so Duluth secures and sends forth industries for all her suburbs in the hope that blessings may be thus obtained, and long after the shipyards of Superior have passed away, the name of Colgate Hoyt is known no more, and vessels propelled by electric forces fly over the deep, Duluth the solid and superb, wearing her god-given mural crown will be right here on her throne laughing at the ragings and remorse of others and doing business at the old stand.

THAT LITTLE PAMPHLET.

The little pamphlet which caused so much anguish on the part of certain Superior delegates to Detroit because of its statement that the Colgate Hoyt was built in Duluth was compiled by a young Mr. Livingstone, of the City of the Straits, whose father was on the vessel during its trial trip in our harbor and out into the lake. He therefore knows the facts in the case, and the pamphlet's statement is entirely true. The dispute, however, is to be regretted on Superior's account, as it may have given the impression that no steamers are built in that suburb of Duluth, which would be equally untrue. The mistake of our Superior friends, and one that should teach them wisdom in the future, was in pouncing upon an immaterial matter in which their position was clearly shown to be false, and thus throwing a whole canopy of suspicion over the claims of their town. Honesty is the best policy, and we wish our outside readers to know that many of the very best people in Superior were at home during the Detroit convention. But if anyone makes the statement that the Colgate Hoyt was built anywhere else than in Duluth, deny the charge at once, for the truth, though usually triumphant, in such case isn't in it.

Duluth, as The Herald has almost every day repeated, is always at the front. We are outdoing the world in commerce, establishing vast industries, building railroads, opening mines, running lecture courses, extending university education, and performing other feats, but even all these do not exhaust our thought and energy, for now two of our local physicians have discovered something that equals if it does not surpass the Keeley cure for drunkenness, the tobacco habit and all nervous affections. It will help you to swear off.

Capt. J. W. Miller who was a delegate to the Detroit convention, thanks all foundations laid for a future depth of thirty feet. He prophesies that the government will some day wish to build war vessels on the lakes, and as the modern gunboat consists of a twenty-eight foot marine basement with a cupola, thirty feet seems none too deep. We have the iron and the energy, and all we need now is a five fathom aqueduct to tide water. Make it deep.

The humane society had a very enthusiastic west end meeting last night and awakened new interest in the cause of justice and humanity. Just now at the Christmas tide is a most fitting time for all to turn their thoughts upon such themes and do whatever in their power may lie to right wrongs and relieve distress. The society is making most commendable efforts at every point where such work is needed.

The Minnesota farmers alliance meets in Minneapolis Jan. 5, 6 and 7 to elect officers for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before the convention. Last year the farmers felt their oats and this year they feel their wheat, so a rousing time is looked for.

Down in Argentine gold is quoted at 285, which reminds old timers of July '64
in our own Yankee land.

The last ten days have been so short, it crowded things like everything to draw a long breath. But now that daylight is stretching out, busy people can breathe easier. However, there is one advantage about this season, you have to keep good natured in business hours or the sun will go down on your wrath.

When the President nominated Judge Woods, of Indiana, he seems to have selected the wrong sort of timber. Naturally enough Woods adjusted the blocks of five.

Tithe democratic leaders always were charged with stopping Mills and things, and now they've done it "sue enough," as our Georgia friends would say.

If Duluthians really wanted the earth, they wouldn't flock in such numbers to see a "hole in the ground."

Lots of people are like a barrel stave in more ways than one. Besides being crooked, they are not in it.

ALCANTARA and amonia are different kinds of stuff, but both should be handled with a degree of caution.

MANFIELD is right in using newspapers. Too many bill boards tell the naked truth.

It takes strapping big fellows to make a good tag of war.

Chilo, Beware!
(Chicago Tribune.)

Chilo, Beware!
Our yearnful Uncle Sam
is slow to wretch, but when he starts out on the war path
he takes a continent to hold him.
He takes a howl you get his dander up.

'Tis quite a little trip around the Horn
To get in good position for a war.
At you, let it go, undertake the trip
He'll get there!

And mark you, Chilo,
There is a bird—a large, tough, healthy bird—
That has been known to fly
From Washington to Africa
And come back home with both his talons full Of wool.

I wouldn't take him very long to make
A flying visit anywhere
In South America.
He's harmless if he's let alone, but don't Threaten him with your cane, for then He's dangerous. This tough old fowl still rusts.

Uncle Sam's flagpole's topmost end.
Below him wave the Stars and Stripes.
We call him, Chilo,
The American
Eagle. And
You'd better
Not stir
him up.

Supreme Court Syllabi.

Following are the syllabi of decisions handed down in the supreme court yesterday:

Josiah C. Hunt, respondent, vs. W. S. Conrad, et al., appellants.

A right to recover damages for personal tort (false imprisonment) is a mere personal right and not assignable, even after verdict, but is recoverable against several defendants one of them is entitled to have set off against such judgment another judgment which he had recovered against the plaintiff, the latter being insolvent.

Order reversed. DICKINSON, J.
John Strutt, an administrator, respondent, vs. St. Paul City Railway company, appellant.

The duty of watchfulness rests upon the driver of a street car approaching a street crossing where he has reason to suppose that young children may be engaged in coasting or sliding down a neighboring hill, and across the car track, although such conduct on the part of the children is unlawful.

Verdict justified to the effect that the parents of a child about 5 years old were not chargeable with negligence in allowing him to go out of the house to play without their own promise if traveling in a public street. Order affirmed.

Nelson J. P. Clark, respondent, vs. Board of County Commissioners, of Stearns county, appellant.

The action of taxing officers in assessing certain property at the place of its residence, although such property is by law properly assessable to another county by reason of its relation to certain business carried on by the owner in the latter county.

Order reversed. DICKINSON, J.
Chief Justice Gilliland submitted a supplemental opinion, concurring with the majority, but not in the line of argument adopted by his learned associates.

De Witt C. Miller, appellant, vs. Malton D.
Miller, et al., respondents.

The plaintiff conveyed to the defendant, M., for the purchase at a price specified by the latter ($100) certain real property in the state of Wisconsin. The plaintiff knew that the defendant was selling the property in violation of the laws of the state.

At length the defendant, M., purchased the land in common at the same price before named. The plaintiff accepted the proposal and it was carried into effect by a warranty deed to them from the supposed owner. In fact the defendant was entitled by agreement with his principal to receive for his services all the profits realized by the sale of the land in excess of $800. Held, that the plaintiff, knowing of the agreement, was not entitled to the benefit of the purchase price or otherwise, and that the defendant was entitled to the profits realized by the sale of the land.

Verdict for the plaintiff. The plaintiff is entitled to the profits realized by the sale of the land.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Way to Get a Start in Life And an Easy Road to Travel.

It is a fact that many people of moderate means have bought and paid for lots in Crosley Park, in the last two years, and have made money.

Every person who bought a lot on the installment plan has made his payments without any special trouble or inconvenience to himself, and every such person is from $100 to $300 better off for doing so. Many people have got their start in life in this wa however small that start may be. The payments were light and easy, and were made with money that would have been frittered away had they not been put into this property. Then, what is still better, every lot has made from 25 to 100 per cent advance, and that is all clear gain, and is a saving of that amount of hard labor on the part of many of our patrons.

There is no better or cheaper property today at the Head of the Lake, and none that will make a better percentage of advance in the next two years than Crosley Park lots. Many who were skeptical two years ago are thoroughly convinced now. It is standard property, and will continue to advance in price for years to come.

Real Estate is the safest possible investment, as everyone knows, and when you can get a PERFECTLY safe investment that will make such large profits and can pay for them at your expense, and in such small payments that you don't feel them, isn't it an opportunity? Of course it is, and you may not see such chances again to get a start in life if you were to live a hundred years. Splendid Duluth property like this will not always be cheap, and you will soon find that there is none within the reach of poor people or persons of moderate means.

While you are in health, and can save money, why not put it into good property like this?

FOG BOUND LONDON

The Big Town on the Thames Has the Light of Day Snuffed Out With a Fog.

All Travel Stopped, Stores Closed, and Holiday Trade Utterly Suspended.

Many are Drowned in the Darkness, While Boys Pilot Pilgrims on the Street.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—This city is still hidden beneath a fog of phenomenal blackness and thickness. For 70 hours has London, to all intents and purposes, been plunged in darkness. Throughout the day the street lamps, to say nothing of the lights within doors, have been alight and link-boys are making small fortunes by piloting cabs and other vehicles through the streets by the aid of torches or lanterns. Regular traffic and trade are at a standstill and navigation on the river Thames has been completely stopped. Many proprietors of jewelry stores and other such places have shut up their shutters until the fog clears away. They are doing absolutely no business and fear the visitation of thieves. The entire police force may be said to have been on duty night and day throughout the 70 hours of the black fog. Some faint idea of the density of the fog may be gathered from the fact that several people have been drowned and a number of others nearly drowned by wandering into rivers and canals after having lost their way. Eight bodies of persons supposed to have been drowned in this manner have already been recovered, and many people are inquiring for missing relatives or friends who are supposed to have met death in the darkness. At Leeds alone, according to a dispatch from that place, three men walked into the canal and were drowned. As may be readily imagined the fog is having a most serious effect on railroad traffic and the result is that all the mails are behind time by many hours. Traveling by train, while the fog lasts, is both a slow and a dangerous business, though up to the present no serious accidents have been reported. This delay in railroad traffic is causing great annoyance to that portion of the commercial community depending upon Christmas shopping for a profit. Country visitors and the great throngs of pilgrims to London to make their purchases and theaters which count upon the country contingent to fill their seats at this time of the year are suffering considerably.

SIR EDWIN ARNOLD.

Billed to Talk in Omaha, but the Manager Skips With the Cash.
OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 24.—Sir Edwin Arnold was billed to deliver a lecture at the Grand Opera house in this city last night, and a large number of people gathered to listen to the great English poet, but finding the house dark they left, declaring the thing a swindle. Mr. Arnold came here under the management of M. D. Clowdier, a Kansas City musician of very poor executive ability. The advance sale of seats had brought in $235, but the expense ran up to $130 without the house management being paid. Clowdier is under contract to pay Sir Edwin $400 per night, and fearing that the amount could not be raised he refused to open the house. As a result a lawyer and constable chased him all over town but failed to find him. To say that Sir Edwin is disgusted is not properly stating it, while the public pronounce Clowdier as a weak-kneed manager and are howling for the return of their money.

Sullivan Cannot Meet Slavin.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—Jack Barnett, manager for John L. Sullivan, said yesterday that the telegram from New York stating that Arthur T. Slavin, representing Sullivan, met Frank Slavin and arranged to sign articles for a fight to a finish in fifteen weeks, between Sullivan and Slavin, cannot possibly be true. Sullivan's engagement to play with Duncan B. Harrison will not expire till June 5, 1892, and he cannot even prepare for a fight till after the expiration of the engagement.

Jack and Billy.
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Jack McAuliffe wired Charles Noel, president of the Olympic club of New Orleans last night, that he would fight Billy Meyer in that city for a purse of $10,000 and for $5000 side. McAuliffe expressed surprise at Carroll's defeat by Meyer.

An Attorney Dead.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Assistant District Attorney McKenzie Semple, who had a surgical operation performed a few days ago, died this morning.

Cyrus Field Very Low.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Cyrus W. Field's condition remains unchanged. He is still weak and helpless and the fact that he has not rallied from the effects of his severe shock gives his friends and relatives much anxiety.

Lyman Gage Better.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Mr. Lyman Gage, of Chicago, who has been lying ill at the Holland house for the past few days, is reported to be much improved.

MORE WAR TALK.

The President and Secretary Tracy Getting on Their Fighting Clothes.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Herald this morning says that Secretary Tracy has been in New York for a week and has been in daily conference with officials of the navy and some of the big steamship men with a view of securing options on merchant vessels to be used in case of war. A naval officer, says the article, is authority for the statement that the United States government will soon take steps to bring the Chilean matter to a crisis. The Herald's informant said that it was understood that President Harrison would in a few days send a special message to congress advising decisive measures in dealing with the Chilean government in case immediate satisfaction was not given for the massacre of the Baltimore's sailors. The article quotes the official as saying that every available ship of war in the United States navy was now in commission and could readily concentrate against Valparaiso.

BURIED AT EMPORIA.

All That was Mortal of Senator Plumb Consigned to the Grave.
EMPORIA, Kansas, Dec. 24.—The final ceremonies over all that is earthly of the late Senator Plumb were conducted in this city today and the remains laid away in the beloved soil of his adopted state. The weather was typical of sunny Kansas, but while the sky was bright and cheerful the faces of the throng, which stood quietly about the streets were clouded with gloom.
At the family home, Rev. Dr. Cordley, of Lawrence, Kan., who was for many years pastor of the congregational church in front of the house, presided over the public ceremonies. The sermon of Senator Plumb and his family, made a few brief remarks, which were introduced by the hymn "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," followed by "Abide in Me." The Emporia commandery Knights Templar formed in front of the house and the funeral services were concluded escorted the remains to the congregational church, where the body lay in state until the public funeral. The sermon of Dr. Cordley at the church was the simple eulogy of a friend.
From the church the remains, followed by a vast concourse of people, was taken to the beautiful cemetery and consigned to the grave amid a profusion of floral tributes and with the simplest services.

Movements in the Pacific.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—The San Francisco will sail for Chile next Saturday as sealed orders were received by Admiral Brown yesterday. Several officers expressed the opinion yesterday that Admiral Brown would not go in command of the San Francisco as it would be a mistake to return him to a place where the prejudice against him is so bitter. The steamer Monowai is expected today from Honolulu with full details of the movements of the Charleston.

Michigan Railroad Lands.
LANSING, Mich., Dec. 24.—The supreme court yesterday confirmed the Flint and Marquette railroad company's title to 100,000 acres of land valued at over $1,000,000, and contested by the state of Michigan. The state officers expressed the opinion yesterday that the railroad claimed title through an act of congress granting lands to aid in the construction of the road in the state.

Food for Peasants.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Clara Barton, president of the National Association of the Red Cross of America, having been elected a donor of goods and other food products from inhabitants of the Western states for shipment to the starving peasants of Russia, has established headquarters of the Red Cross at Hotel Oxford, corner of Fourth street and New York avenue, this city, where all business in connection with the matter will be transacted.

The Baseball Boys.
LOUISVILLE, Dec. 24.—Fred Pfeffer may after all play second base for and act as captain of the Louisville team. Pfeffer, Fred Pfeffer, St. Louis, has written to Anson offering to trade Brown for him. It so happens that the transfer would be exactly suitable to both men and both clubs. The Chicago team now has men who can cover second perfectly, but needs another outfielder.

Believe This If You Want To.
PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 24.—Agents of the whaleback Charles W. Wetmore furnished a bond of $20,000, with W. S. Ladd and Capt. R. Williams, both of this city, as bondsmen. The vessel has been released from custody.

Charges for Cutting Poles.
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The amended claim of the East River Electric Light company against the city for the cutting down of its poles and wires, is for $500,000 damages. The claim has been presented to Comptroller Myers.

DAVITT DEFEATED.

Yesterday's Irish Elections at Waterford Return a Parnellite to Parliament.

The McCarthyites Were Confident of Victory, But the Ballot Box Tells Another Story.

Redmond is Borne Above the Heads of His Enthusiastic Followers and Makes a Speech.

WATERFORD, Dec. 24.—The Parnellites were victorious in yesterday's election, Redmond receiving 1725 votes and Davitt 1229. This victory was a heavy blow to the McCarthyites who were confident of victory and will serve to give a new lease of life to the Parnellite party. It is now believed to be certain that the followers of the late Mr. Parnell as represented under the leadership of Mr. Redmond will win a number of other seats and be able to maintain themselves as a distinct party for some time to come. As announced yesterday the Parnellites have driven into their last entrenchment, into the last ditch, but they rallied nobly, fought with the most grim determination and have routed their enemies.
About 1000 people abstained for one reason and another from voting. The Parnellites are jubilant, of course, and say that their victory arises from the fact that the priests were unable to coerce the Waterford electors as they had previously coerced Cork and other voters who have given majorities against Parnellites within the past few months. So late as yesterday evening the general opinion in political circles was that Mr. Davitt had won and before the polls were opened it was predicted on all sides that he would win by about 500 majority. The result shows how badly the political prophets can be mistaken and proves there is still considerable vitality in the party fighting beneath the banner of the late Charles Stewart Parnell. Naturally the Parnellites claim that the victory is a vindication of the principles they uphold. In any case, it is difficult to see how the result of the Waterford election can tend to bring harmony to the councils of the Irish parliamentary party. The Parnellites are now in a position to dictate terms to the McCarthyites and they will not be backward in doing so. It is probable that the most surprised man in Great Britain and Ireland is Michael Davitt. He had no more idea of being defeated than he had of flying.
The minds of the leaders of both Irish factions are present too much excited to admit of anything like reconciliation. Mr. Dillon, it will be remembered, announced at Waterford on Thursday last that if Waterford returned the Parnellite candidate he, Mr. Dillon, would feel bound to tell his countrymen that he no longer any hope in constitutional legislation, and that he himself should retire to private life. People are now saying themselves that Mr. Dillon will keep his word, and rumor has it that he should do so other prominent Irish members of parliament may follow his example. This is a sad and might be the way towards reconciliation between the contending factions and gives birth to the hope that the Irish parliamentary party will be united in the near future. This hope, however, is at present only showing a faint glimmer on the political horizon.

REDMOND TALKS.

Congratulates Ireland and Regrets Parnell Did Not Live to See the Day.
DUBLIN, Dec. 24.—Mr. John E. Redmond, the successful candidate in the Waterford election, when the result was made known was hoisted upon the shoulders of his friends and borne about in triumph amid roars of enthusiastic cheering. First Mr. Redmond was allowed to make a speech, during the course of which he said he was certain that the result of the election would be received with pleasure by the Irish everywhere. Continuing, he said that he regretted that the chief whose heart he had broken, the great Charles Stewart Parnell, did not live to see this day. (Loud cheers.) Mr. Redmond also said: "We must never forget this magnificent blow struck in the cause of Irish independence." The crowd soon afterward dispersed without any incident. The election contest during the past two days has been noticeable for the orderly manner in which it has been conducted.

RUSSIAN INTRIGUES.

They Result in the Dissolution of the Roumanian Chamber.

VIENNA, Dec. 24.—The dissolution of the Roumanian chamber is considered a victory for Russian intrigues. The Russians have been laboring with unusual earnestness of late to secure a predominant influence in Roumania. It is stated in Vienna that Russia is only waiting to be sure of Roumanian neutrality or co-operation to attack Bulgaria. The recent attempt to drive King Charles into abdication is attributed to Russian influence, the Russians being jealous of the presence of a German and especially a Hohenzollern on the throne of the leading Balkan state.

King Charles and his ministers have shown a stubborn determination to prevent Russians from violating Roumanian territory, and the Russian maneuvers on the Pruth have not only been vigilantly watched, but also reported throughout Europe to the great chagrin of the Russians who want secrecy for their military operations. This has made Russian agents the more active in their plots against King Charles and his advisers, and the dissolution of the chamber is the outcome. The elections to be held in February will be a test of strength of Russian influence, and are expected to have an important bearing on the Balkan problem.

NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

The Y. M. C. A. Secures a Man of Whom Great Things are Expected.
The Young Men's Christian association has been negotiating with C. E. Locke, who carried off the honors at last summer's field day, desiring to secure him for physical director in the new gymnasium. Mr. Locke has accepted the position and started for Chicago yesterday to study the methods of physical work in that city and gain all the points possible for fitting up the new gymnasium and conducting the work in it.

Mr. Locke is an Iowa man. He led in the athletic work of the Cornell college in that state, and brought the athletic standing of the college up to a high rank. He is a friend of the ex-physical director L. J. Cooke, and Mr. Cooke tried to induce him to enter the physical work a year ago, when he was active in the gymnasium work here. He made athletic work a study as well as a recreation while at college, and he will come to the new gymnasium, which will be opened about Jan. 15, ready to take hold of the gymnasium with the enthusiasm and ability that must make it very successful. The old members are very anxious to get into the new gymnasium and a great many men, young and old, judging from the inquiries made are just as anxious to enjoy the privileges which the fine new gymnasium will afford.

THE PROJECTED CLUB.

Neither Mr. Barker nor the W. C. T. U. Will Have Anything to do With It.
To a Herald reporter, Rev. W. M. Barker this morning said: "No, I have no intention of having anything whatever to do with any bachelors of gold club and never did have. I do not believe the ladies of the W. C. T. U. intend to have any connection with it." The meeting referred to in The Herald yesterday, on this subject, was held at the residence of Mr. Barker, and it was announced that they could have nothing to do with the scheme for a club under the circumstances. If it is organized it will be by Dr. Slaughter himself or some other than those who were talking the matter over somewhat yesterday afternoon.

LATE NAVIGATION.

The Edward Fisk Goes Today to Port Arthur.
This morning, Dec. 24, the tug Edward Fisk left for Port Arthur after a load of fish for the A. Booth Packing company. The boat will probably return Sunday or Monday. The Booth company will keep a vessel in commission between Duluth and Port Arthur until ice stops navigation. Just now there is no more hindrance to navigation than in midsummer.

They Didn't Last.
Jeweler Geist a few days ago received 50 silver cardcases, into each of which was fitted a handsome picture in tints of the central portion of Duluth, looking from the boulevard down upon the Spalding house and harbor. They were by far the handsomest souvenirs of Duluth ever designed, the pictures being made in Paris. Every one of them was sold within a few hours after he received the lot, and Mr. Geist was obliged to buy some back at a large advance over what he sold for in order to accommodate some of his customers. Such articles would sell well at any time in the year.

'Twould be Wholesale Emigration.
Says the Superior Leader: "The Merritt family of Duluth, and Chas. D. Feldt and A. N. Doe and families will meet at the residence of Mr. Doe, Central park, for a family reunion Christmas evening."

The Leader is in error. There isn't a house in Superior large enough to contain the Merritt family of Duluth. Only the family of C. C. Merritt will pick turkey bones with Mr. Doe.

Table D'Hote Dinner.
Aside from the sumptuous bill of fare printed in another column of Thurston's Cafe for tomorrow, there will be served at 5 p. m., a table d'hote dinner. Democrats Meet.
The local democratic committee held a meeting last night and talked over the situation. A. R. Macfarlane was talked of for mayor as was Simon Clark. Mr. Macfarlane is so far away—over in Scotland—that this kind of talk was thought to be perfectly safe. Mr. Clark has given it out to his friends that he has no intention of running and will probably not be in Duluth at election time. Last night plans of campaign for the several wards were considered.

CHURCH AND STATE

Relations Much Strained Between the Government at Paris and the Pope.

The Holy Father About to Confer Distinguished Honors on the Archbishop of Aix.

Should This Be Done It Will Be Viewed and Resented as a Direct Affront to France.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The news has been telegraphed from Rome to this city that the pope intends to confer the grand cross of the order of Christ upon the archbishop of Aix. It is almost needless to add that in the present state of public feeling when a movement is on foot to separate church and state, as one of the results of the archbishop of Aix's conduct supported by letters of other distinguished prelates, such a step upon the part of the vatican is most significant. It will be looked upon here, should the news prove correct, as a defiance on the part of the pope of the government of this country and the reply of the French government may not be slow in forthcoming.

The archbishop of Bordeaux has made common cause with Monsignor Gouthe-Soulard in a diocesan letter which he addressed to all catholics in France. The main points of this letter are as follows: The archbishop of Bordeaux defends the right of members of the episcopate to join in pilgrimages to Rome. According to this prelate, when the archbishop of Aix wrote as he did, he was not prompted by a wish to fight, but was simply overcome by disgust. The pope, says the archbishop, has no longer hope in earthly benefactors outside the ranks of the devout French catholics. He knows they are noble, hearty and intrepid and that their blood is easily stirred by the complaint of the weak, and the cries of insulted virtue and outraged honor. He will find among them avengers as Christ found at Gethsemane. The pope is head of all in the spiritual order and the French catholics will never suffer him to be in subjection to any earthly power.

This letter naturally has aroused indignation among the supporters of the government and led to the preparation of a bill on associations as a preparatory step to the separation of church and state. It was made evident by the letter of the archbishop of Bordeaux that the ultra Montane bishops were acting upon suggestions received from the vatican, and that they were encouraged in setting the government at defiance. If there has ever any doubt as to this it is furnished by the announcement made by the Diritto today. The senate, contrary to precedents, has recently shown itself to be strongly anti-clerical, as it has just supported the government by 211 to 57 votes in a resolution accusing the clergy of jeopardizing the social peace and of violating the rights of the state.

THE CENTRAL WRECK.

Many are Killed and Injured at Hastings on the Hudson.

New York, Dec. 26.—The accident on the New York Central railroad Thursday night at Hastings, on the Hudson, has proved to be much worse than at first reported. The official list of the dead numbers eleven people as follows: Mrs. A. N. Baldwin, New York; The W. Wiley, New York, of the firm of George H. Wiley & Co.; Abraham Night, conduct of Mrs. Van Arsdale, New York; Miss Slocum, Lockport, N. Y.; Miss Moore, Medina; Lizzie Ford, Brooklyn; J. W. White, Porter; Miss Lillian Baldwin, New York; Dr. Best, Dentist, New York; one man not identified.

The burned and injured are Mrs. Homer R. Baldwin, New York, who was about the face and arms and internally injured; Annie Ford, slightly burned; D. B. Murphy, lawyer, New York, leg and collar bone broken, face and arm burned; Harry Jacobson, New York, slightly burned; J. F. Bagelee, Poughkeepsie, slightly burned about the face, and injured internally; J. C. Gould, travelling engineer of the New York Central; M. Cormack, Miss Freyer, Poughkeepsie; Homer F. Baldwin, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Tremain, Brooklyn.

The terrible disaster was due to the carelessness of brakeman Albert E. Herrick, of the Buffalo express, which was lying still below Hastings. Herrick has not yet been found. He left his uniform in the train and put on his citizens clothes. From the official report given out by Third Vice President Webb, of the New York Central road, train No. 93, which left New York at 5:40 p. m., stopped at Dobb's ferry to make some slight repairs on the engine. The danger signal was thrown out, and following the train, the Buffalo and Niagara Falls special, which left here at 7:30 p. m., was stopped about three-quarters of a mile south of Dobb's ferry station. The conductor of No. 40 immediately sent brakeman Herrick back to signal coming trains. He proceeded as far as the station at Hastings. There he went inside and talked with the stationmaster, waiting for the Cincinnati and St. Louis express, No. 7, which left the city at 8 o'clock. While Herrick was standing near the door the St. Louis express whizzed past running at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

The Bank of Tyronne.
TYRONNE, Pa., Dec. 26.—There is great indignation today among depositors of the wrecked Tyronne bank and suits for $30,000 have been entered against Cashier Guerin and the stockholders. A. D. HIT AT HILL.

One of New York's Judges Talks on the Governor's Action.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Justice Kennedy, in an interview upon the action of Governor Hill in pardoning Welsh, the supervisor of the Third ward, committed to the penitentiary for three days and fined $250 for contempt of court, analyzes the governor's memorandum and says:

"The advice given by the governor is that inferior officers and boards, indeed any and every one, when required by an order of the court to perform a legal duty enjoined upon it or them, but neglected many, with impunity, disobey and disregard the same, and that by so doing they will earn and should receive the plaudits of the press in a show of anarchy and aims a death-dealing blow at the very roots of public security and public peace. It announces a socialistic doctrine of the most alarming character and advocates that the governor of the state sympathizes with and is ready to aid in the commission of its penitentiary purposes. It proclaims and endorses with approval the most repulsive plank in the platform upon which the anarchist dances, his policy of death amid the wreck of political falsity."

"It is urged by the governor that there is justification in the sentence of death and that an application to the court for a stay of execution had been denied. No defense, excuse or palliation can be offered. There is nothing to review and a stay would have been to trifle with justice. If the convicted party felt himself aggrieved by the refusal there were many other courts to which he could have applied and where the question would have been duly considered and properly disposed of. The most strange suggestion, and the crowning act of justification for his conduct, is the proceeding by Governor Hill is found in the statement that it was an important duty devolving upon him to pardon Welsh and release him from confinement, because the board of supervisors stood with 17 democrats and 16 republicans, and that it was a public necessity that Welsh be set free, since in case he was held in confinement the board would be a tie, and in that event he could not appoint a democratic successor. This is a position of considerable political importance. I think it may be safely said that this is the first time in the history of the state where an executive has conceived it his duty to pardon a convicted criminal for the purpose such as is suggested by his excellency."

WAR SHIP MOVEMENTS.

The Charleston Gone to Guard Chilean Nitrate Beds.

San Francisco, Dec. 26.—The steamer Monowai arrived in yesterday from Honolulu and Australia. She brings the important news that the Charleston left Honolulu on Dec. 17, the same day that the Monowai sailed for the United States. The first officer of the Monowai, who was on the bridge at the time, says that his vessel had only just got under good headway when through his glasses he saw the anchor weight of the Charleston, and a few minutes later the cruiser put to sea, heading in a westerly direction. From that time on, she took it was plain she was bound for Callao. From other Honolulu arrivals it was learned that the Charleston received orders to make the direct course to Callao, there to receive ammunition from the San Francisco, and then proceed to guard the nitrate beds on the coast of Peru. Advices from Honolulu say that Surgeon General Wood of the United States steamer Charleston, met with a serious accident on Dec. 15. His runaway team collided with a telegraph pole, throwing him violently to the ground. He was badly cut on the back of the head and forehead. His condition is reported critical.

Chattanooga Burning.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 26.—D. B. Loveman & Co.'s great retail drygoods store burned to the ground today. It is reported that three girls were burned to death. The entire center of the city is threatened. The Times building is in fire, besides a dozen other buildings, and a high wind is blowing.

BI-CHLORIDE.
It is the Name of a Specially Chartered Club, Not a Medicine.
To the Editor of The Herald.

I regret having to appear in public print, but your issue of last evening contains many statements and "bi-chloride clubs, etc.," and remarks attributed to me do injustice to every "bi-chloride graduate." You will find, I am sure, that just such a scheme was outlined and for which I am quite as responsible as never contemplated. Bi-chloride is the name of an organized club chartered, and its branches existing only by charter from the parent club. The bi-chloride club of the world, headquarters at Dwight, Ill.

Dr. Kelley says his treatment is by the double chloride of gold, so do Dr. Murry and I, none of us call it bi-chloride. All patients who have "graduated" in a course of this treatment know the appetite for liquor is absolutely destroyed and that liquor whether in saloons or elsewhere is no temptation to one who has completed a course of treatment. We know that no man can reform a habit of drinking except by deliberate intention and all "bi-chloride graduates" (this being the rightful designation only of those who were at Dwight or branches) stand prepared to demand proof that one of us whose business has necessitated a visit to a saloon has taken a drink while there, because we are confident of being able to protect each other's reputation. We are conscious of constant, unworthy criticism, and give us pleasure to expose our traducers as well as protect ourselves.

The proposed local club was suggested, discussed and was promoted by men who under no circumstance could be called reformed inebriates, and having no desire to be so stigmatized, still were ready to welcome to membership any man to whom whisky presented no attractions.

It was to be a self-sustaining club of self-respecting men, who would exclude drinking and gambling, no professional man to hold office, and the club to be governed only by rules of its own making. CHAS. SLAUGHTER.

GOOD WILL TO MEN.

Our Grim-Visaged Chilean War Now Smooths His Would-be Wrinkled Front.

The Department Chiefs and Naval Attaches Deny the Former Beligerent Reports.

Christmas Has a Softening Influence and Cabinet Officers Dine With Chile's Minister.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—An early settlement of the existing difficulties with Chile is confidently expected by the officials here. What the nature of that settlement will be depends entirely upon the government of Chile. A policy of waiting has been adopted by this government for the reason that the difficulties that led to the present condition of things occurred under the administration of a provisional junta or government in Chile which might not represent in any degree the wishes of the people. Today the provisional government gives way to the new government under President Montt. It is not probable that any change in the situation will develop until after congress meets in January. The results of the investigation of the Chilean judicial authorities into the killing of the Baltimore's sailors are not expected to reach the state department before that time and of course until they are known and the intentions of the Chilean government is expressed nothing will be done.

Mr. Blaine and other members of the diplomatic circle will partake of the hospitality of the Chilean minister, Mr. Montt at a formal dinner tonight. The holders are productive of a peaceful feeling among government officials as regards the Chilean situation. Secretary Tracy said today that no war vessels were under orders to sail to Chile. Assistant Secretary Soloy reiterated the words of his chief. Yet in the face of these denials press dispatches state that the Charleston has left Honolulu for Valparaiso and the United States vessels in the South Atlantic are still steaming southward, while at the United States navy yards throughout the country work is being pushed day and night. It is known that within the past 24 hours several calligrams from Chile have been received at the state and navy departments, but the contents have not been disclosed. Government officials in view of the inauguration of the new Chilean government today, expect a satisfactory and speedy termination of the Chilean incident.

They Pulled in Madison Square.
New York Dec. 25.—Fully 2,500 persons visited Madison square this evening to witness the tug of war contests. The events tonight resulted in a victory for the Canadian, defeated Italy; Scotland defeated Sweden; Norway defeated America; Denmark defeated Ireland. Norway still leads in the race with an unbroken record of five victories. Ireland and Italy are now out of the contest.

Edward Field Still Starving.
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Edward M. Field still persists in starving himself. He has recently alarmed his physician, and Warden Follen was instructed yesterday to give him whisky. The warden says Field seems to be in a dazed state and that the only time his face shows any expression of interest is when the family physician, Dr. Lindley, calls.

Miners Against Eight Hours.
LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Northumberland miners have rejected by a vote of 270 against 288 the proposition to advocate the passage of a measure providing for a legal day work of eight hours per day.

In the Shadow of the Noose.
CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 26.—Isaac B. Sawtelle sentenced to be hanged Jan. 15 for the murder of his brother Hiram, died in the hospital of the state prison at 10:15 o'clock this forenoon. He was stricken with apoplexy Thursday night and never regained consciousness.

World's Fair in Berlin.
BERLIN, Dec. 26.—It is announced here that the commission of the German national diet appointed especially to consider the subject, has declared itself in favor of holding an international exhibition in Berlin.

Grip in New England.
HAVERHILL, Mass., Dec. 26.—The people here have been very much increased by the cold easterly rain storm during the last three days.

Newton.—It is estimated that there are fully 500 cases of grip in this place.

Fire at Chicopee.
CHICOPPEE, Mass., Dec. 26.—The Dwight mills were partly destroyed by fire Thursday. The loss is about $50,000; partially covered by insurance.

The Bad Side of Christmas.
John Gallagher, who bit Lieut. Thompson's fingers while the latter was taking him to jail for drunkenness yesterday, was sentenced this morning to 60 days in the county jail.

Tom Shepley and John Hogan, arrested for shooting off firearms inside of the city limits, forfeited $15 bail apiece.

Improvement Assessments.
Inside of another month the board of works will have made out new assessments for the sewers building in the west end. Mayor Davis says he is glad the much-disputed question as to how assessments shall not be levied has at last been settled and that it will save considerable trouble for the future. The board will put the bulk of the assessment on the property immediately benefited by the improvement and make the assessment very small on the part that cannot use the sewers for some time to come.

Holiday Rates.
The St. Paul & Duluth railway will place on sale tickets to all points on their line, including St. Paul, Minneapolis and Stillwater at a rate of one and one-third fare, Dec. 24, 25, 31, and Jan. 1. Good to return up to and including Jan. 4. For further information, inquire of T. J. Goulden, City Ticket Agent 426 West Superior street; J. C. Robinson, Union depot; H. P. Brown, Twentieth avenue.

THE LOG OF THE WETMORE.

Report of the Disaster of the Whaleback by Capt. Hastings.

The following is a condensation of the first and only report made by Capt. Hastings of the whaleback C. W. Wetmore to the press and is published as an interesting and authentic contribution.

On Sunday morning December 6th the barometer commenced to fall rapidly with increasing wind from S. W. and had looking sky; the sea raising with heavy westerly swell, during the forenoon had no difficulty in steering good courses but as wind and sea increased vessel steered badly until 7:30 p. m. when vessel refused to answer her helm. By this time it was blowing a gale, but experienced no difficulty in heaving ship to and bringing her head to sea, which position was maintained during the night, steamer riding seas easily. Wind increasing to hurricane force sea came so heavy that steamer fell off into trough of it and while between the seas sails would be becalmed. We kept engines going astern all Monday night and thus prevented ship driving on lee shore which was less than two miles distant. By 4 a. m. on the morning of Tuesday, 8th inst. the weather and sea moderated some. We started ahead and kept her going off shore. During the night we had all hands working on a temporary rudder and Wednesday morning had the ship under control the first time since Sunday night. At 10 a. m. the British steamer Zambesi was sighted. The weather was moderating, but as the barometer was lower than it had been any time during the gale we decided to get into the nearest port lowered a boat and passed our hawser to the Zambesi, when she commenced towing on our engines working ahead. After towing for about two hours we arrived off the Columbia river bar. After laying by night the Zambesi made a start, and before a fair strain could be had on our hawser (a nine-inch manilla) it parted in two towing chock. At noon the pilot boarded the Zambesi. We crossed the bar safely, and at 6 p. m. anchored off Astoria.

This gale is said to be the heaviest experienced on the North Pacific coast since 1850, and the Wetmore, living through such a sea in a partially disabled condition justifies the expectations of her designers and owners.

"Southern Boom Towns."

To the Editor of The Herald.
In your issue of Wednesday I noticed a communication from S. T. Johnson concerning the town of Tallapoosa, Ga., in which reference was made to me for confirmation of his statements. I wish to say that Mr. Johnson made this reference without any authority whatsoever, and I was considerably surprised to see it. I also wish to say that Mr. Johnson made a very mild statement as to the condition and prospects of the town. For two years I have watched its growth—knew all about it at the period of its retrogression, some four years ago—and for many years have I known the gentlemen who are at the head of the enterprise. Without hesitation, and entirely without solicitation, I would say that I deem Tallapoosa today one of the foremost towns of the South and destined in the near future to be a very dangerous rival to Atlanta herself.

The mineral, timber and agricultural resources are unlimited; the manufacturing concerns already in operation are on a scale to make even the Zenith City envious, and others are coming of greater magnitude; the company is offered by the staunchest men of the country—men whom every one of your readers would be proud to be able to call a friend—and the climate is something, to me, marvelous. I do not make these statements from any selfish motives but simply to give my small justification of the actions of those whom I know to be acting in the utmost good faith. I care not that the croakers may say. If their object is to injure the town they had better keep silent, for any enterprise which has so firm a foundation as the one in question can only be benefited by such adverse criticism. I but wish that those who have doubts would take the opportunity of investigating for themselves. Respectfully,
STEPHEN L. SELDEN.

IS REMARKABLE NOW

But the Industrial Development of the West of the Lakes is too Vastly More Remarkable.

See Says the Iron Age, of New York, Leading Exponent of the Iron Trade in the United States.

The Great Furnace Overcomes its Troubles and Gets Down to Steady Business on a Big Scale.

The last issue of the Iron Age, of New York, the representative iron trade journal of America, has as its leading editorial from the pen of Geo. W. Cope, its associate editor, an article under the caption "At the Head of the Lakes," which is so far a summary and candid confession of future greatness outside New York, that The Herald copies nearly the entire article, all it has space for.

It is as follows: "The people who have cast their fortunes into the iron trade have been at the west end of Lake Superior are credited with rather more than the average local pride. It is, indeed, the general impression that a Duluth or West Superior man is a boomer of the rank type. Those who are prejudiced by such a feeling are seeking to know something about the progress made there are, however, making a serious mistake. Chicago passed through just such an experience and gained thereby the name of 'Windy City,' because every Chicago man was blowing of what his city was doing. Time has more than realized the predictions and those who seek the advantages of location at the head of Lake Superior without careful personal investigation are liable to the commission of errors similar to many made in early Chicago.

"Very few localities in this country are growing more rapidly in population and manufacturing and commercial enterprises than the district bordering on the harbor of Duluth. The natural advantages of its location at the extreme west end of lake navigation have long been recognized and time has made facilities as well as the filling of the back country with settlers. The start has been made in such a way that it is not surprising that Duluth and West Superior are growing by leaps and bounds. The great wealth producing center now the extreme Northwest, and for this a Lake Superior port is the natural outlet. The iron mines of Minnesota also meet lake navigation not far from Duluth, and a new era is being developed, which probably will bring the coming year from Duluth itself. This wheat and iron trade will grow steadily year by year, and it can never be diverted to another locality.

"The manufacturing advantages are greater than would be supposed. Because of the low coal freights, the fuel question is no problem whatever. Proximity to rich iron ore and cheap fuel make this a good location for blast furnaces and steel works. The pioneers in this line are getting to work and developments will be carefully watched. Important enterprises are known to be in contemplation, which will be put in effect as soon as these problems are demonstrated the success of their location.

"The manufacturing interests are already remarkably varied. Duluth possesses immense car shops, which are now getting into proper shape; a blast furnace making the first coke iron on Lake Superior, and a new blast furnace, the largest and best equipped in the world; the most modern four mills of great capacity; a wagon factory, already great and projected on a scale that will make it one of the largest; foundries and machine shops, supplied with great facilities; refrigerators works of large capacity; furniture factories, sawmills and engine builders. West Superior has one of the largest steel shipyards on the lakes; Bessemer steel mills and plate and structural mills; the most important north of Milwaukee; a stove foundry of considerable size; the only pig iron works in the Northwest, and numerous smaller industries. A drydock is being built to handle the largest vessels.

"The water power of the St. Louis river, within a few miles of Duluth, is one of the greatest on the continent. With the great advantages which have been made of late in the transmission of energy, it is expected that this power will be used for many purposes at points scattered along the St. Louis valley.

THE BIG FURNACE.

Down to Business After a Wearisome Series of Experiments.

The big blast furnace at West Duluth has at last been brought into excellent working order. It is now turning out 100 tons of Bessemer pig iron per day. In a few days the amount of the product will be increased. Expert Richards, of Chicago, one of the best men in blast furnace work, and who has been in the country for some time back and has found that not only was there a chill, but that several little things conspired to make trouble, among them the manner of the distribution of the charge, so that some of the pig iron was too hot and some too cold. Many of the delicate chemical adjustments have had to be changed somewhat.

The iron is being shipped to the steel plant across the bay and in about two weeks the Bessemer converters and plate rolling mill will be set at work. The furnace will soon increase its capacity to 125 tons daily, and today it advertises for 15 additional men.

THE SOCIAL WEEK.

Christmas Meetings and Christmas Visits Are the Chief Events.

It is not probable that the old custom of keeping open house New Years afternoon will be very extensively followed in Duluth this year. Other affairs may take the place of this much honored but long since decaying custom. It was in the early days of Duluth that this custom was most highly observed here and in that time there were many quaint and pleasant incidents that would well bear repeating.

Further the leading event of the coming week in the social circles will be a reception and party to be given New Years afternoon tonight by Mrs. J. D. Ray and Mrs. C. Mark III at their residence of the latter. Many invitations have been issued and the affair will be most pleasant.

The Saturday club holds no more sessions until Jan. 9. Then it studies German literature, the drama and unities.

At all the churches the feast of Christmas has kept the young people as well as their elders busy. There were many beautiful remembrances of the day in the ceremonies and services carried out. At thousands of homes through the city the well loaded fir tree was lighted Thursday evening or Friday and the happy little ones charmed with the sight of the mystic gifts of Santa Claus.

Miss Lottie B. Harris, of this city, and Mr. Samuel F. Kun, of Danville, N. Y., were married yesterday afternoon at Superior. They reside in this city, where they have many friends.

Landlord Emerson entertained the newspaper fraternity at the Spaulding last evening with one of the finest dinners ever given in Duluth.

Philip Hasselblad, chief mailing clerk of the postoffice, was married on Wednesday to Miss Stella M. Lange, of St. Paul, in that city. They returned to Duluth today.

The Unity club gives a party at the Spaulding Tuesday evening. It will be the club's first party for some time. The floor committee consists of Messrs. E. C. Jones, Geo. A. French, H. F. Tottman, Edward Fuller and Thomas Bloomfield.

A special meeting of the Medley club was held with Miss Reiminger of West Fourth street, Tuesday evening. Several of Superior's young people as well as many from Duluth participated. The card of invitation and outline of the evening's work was very unique.

Cards have been received here announcing that Newman Campbell Harvey of Duluth was married to Miss Flora Barber, of Juneau, Wis., on the 2nd, at the home of the bride. They will be at home to their friends on Feb. 1 at 323 West Fourth street. They arrived from Juneau yesterday and were entertained at a large family party by Mrs. W. H. Harvey.

Wednesday afternoon the pupils of Mr. Lachmund gave a matinee musicale, the program for which will include piano selections by Misses Irene Silberstein, India, Eva and Virgie Willcuts, Mrs. Greenwood, Josie Carey, Ada Maljory, Kate Kingman, Jennie Grady, Mabel White, Madge Wallace and Ellen Shibuske and Spencer Schaefer. There will also be a vocal quartet by the choir of the First Presbyterian church, who will sing a Christmas anthem, "The Way Shepherds," composed by Mr. R. C. Ray.

Mention Personally.

J. M. Doherty has gone to Vassar, Mich., to spend the holidays.

R. S. Munger returned last night from Chicago and the East.

Christmas at Fort Snelling.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Donnelly, of St. Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Donnelly, of Duluth, are visiting with Mrs. Donnelly's brothers, Otto and M. W. Hartman.

J. L. Cromwell, bookkeeper for the West Duluth Land company, has gone to Canada for a visit and will probably spend the winter in Duluth.

City Attorney Allen went Thursday to Winona to spend the holidays with his wife and her parents.

Miss Maude Porter, sister of Mrs. Philip Westaway, is here from Canada for a visit and will probably spend the winter in Duluth.

Editor Per Larke, of the New Swedish Press, is spending the holidays in Chicago.

C. E. Lovett and Secretary Welles, of the board of trustees of whom have been ill, are about again.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Frazer, who have been so ill with diphtheria, are recovering.

Druggist Booth, his wife and mother left for Toronto, Ont., Wednesday from there he will take his brother to California for the benefit of the latter's health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Boggs are in the city visiting Mr. Boggs' brother, James A. Boggs. They are on their way to the city of Duluth, where Mr. Boggs is heavily interested in timber lands.

A. C. Canfield, at one time Duluth agent of the old Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land company, that controlled all the townships along the Northern Pacific between Duluth and the coast is in the city.

Mr. Ernest Lachmund went to Minneapolis last night to hear the Danz orchestra concert. A Christmas party was given by the orchestra composed by Mr. Lachmund, was given by the orchestra at this concert.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bacon returned to their home Tuesday night, and will spend the holidays here. Mrs. Bacon has just returned from a two months' trip to Europe, much improved in health.

A TERMINAL REPORT

A Report, Which is Hoped to be More Encouraging Than Many Expected, Booked For Tuesday.

The Statement of Many That a Big Annual Rental is Demanded, is Believed to be in Error.

The Purchasers of the "Bank Lands" Will Organize as a Parent Company for Several Leases.

Secretary Thompson, of the chamber of commerce, has been asked to make a report to the chamber next Tuesday before an open meeting to report the progress on the terminal question. Although the report will probably not be a lengthy or elaborate one it will undoubtedly show a much more encouraging state of affairs than many people believe.

Mr. Thompson was asked this morning what he thought of the alleged interview in one of the morning papers with a Harrington, in which that gentleman is made to say that the property to be thrown into a terminal pool by the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific will be valued at $6,000,000, and that the roads using it will have to pay the enormous annual rental of $200,000. "I would like to know," said the secretary, "where Mr. Harrington, or anyone else, gets his information in regard to values. It is only a little while since Mr. Harrington was quoted as saying that the property would be valued at $10,000,000. Mr. Long and myself met Mr. Oakes in Chicago only a few days ago and that gentleman told us that he had no idea as to the valuation for the simple reason that it had not been decided just what land would be used in the terminal scheme.

"He also told us that roads would not be charged a rental on property that they would have no use for. For instance, the company intends to ultimately have a terminal system clear through to Fond du Lac, yet it must not charge a railroad coming in over the Northern Pacific bridge rental for that part of the system between here and Fond du Lac, if it had no use for it.

THE MESABA CENTRAL.

The Bank Lands to be Incorporated as a Parent Company. The recently-purchased "bank lands," as they are called, bought by Messrs. Hale, Gridley, A. R. Merritt and others this week from the Security bank of Minneapolis, contain something over 3000 acres of excellent iron lands on the Mesaba in $846 and 17. The purchasers are now organizing a company, to be called, probably, the "Mesaba Central Security company" or "Mesaba Central Iron company," which will have a nominal capital of $1,000,000, and which will stand as a parent company to others that may be formed with larger capital to work the lands included in the deal. It will lease the properties to these companies, of which there will be several, as individuals and the projects believe they will have the best organization on the Mesaba range.

It is not probable that any one outside those immediately interested—and perhaps not they themselves—realize to any extent the richness of the Mesaba range, or the value to Duluth of these late discoveries. There are now at least half a dozen men of Duluth, who each actually own as much iron ore in sight as the Minnesota Iron company, with its capital stock of $16,000,000, ever claimed to own. They each have probably more ore actually in sight than the Minnesota ever had. And not alone this, but the lands along the Mesaba are now almost wholly owned and controlled by hundreds of Duluth men, nearly all of whom will be liable to reap rich harvests at some time in the near future. This fact is a most important one in the city's development.

Not only will these mines pour their wealth into Duluth and ship through Duluth to the East, but the mining companies will themselves in a few years put in at this city blast furnaces to control the output of their own ore and sell their product in pig and not in lump. This is stated as the intention and expectation by those who are interested heavily in half a dozen of the biggest companies. They will by this keep both their mines and their railway steadily at work all the year round, and will not be obliged to resort to the retreating together of stockpiles to keep their men busy. As a matter of fact there will be no need of stockpiles at these Mesaba mines, for the majority of them are stockpiles already and can be shipped by steam shovels, at a cost per ton for mining and shipping dollar less than in any mine on the present Lake Superior ranges, except in the case of a few scattered and individual mines.

That a great future is in store for Duluth by reason of its connection with the Mesaba range there is no doubt.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by J. George Scaddell, mortgagee, to Mrs. A. F. Austin, mortgagee, bearing date the 15th day of March A. D. 1886 and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 15th day of March A. D. 1886 at 9 o'clock A. M., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 403 and which mortgage was duly given in on the real estate hereinafter described, to secure the payment of the principal sum of fifteen hundred dollars according to the conditions of a certain promissory note described in said mortgage with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum payable semi-annually from October 1st, 1886, and the conditions of interest coupon notes attached to said principal note; and whereas it was provided and stipulated in and by said mortgage that if default should be made in the payment of said sum of money or interest or any part thereof at the time and in the manner therein provided, the mortgagee should be empowered to sell the premises described in said mortgage for the payment of the said mortgage debt and the taxes (if any) on said premises, and the interest thereon, and the costs of sale, and the balance of the proceeds of said sale to be paid to the mortgagor or his heirs, assigns, administrators or assigns; and whereas default has been made in the payment of said sum of money or interest or any part thereof at the time and in the manner therein provided, and the taxes (if any) on said premises, and the interest thereon, and the costs of sale, and the balance of the proceeds of said sale to be paid to the mortgagor or his heirs, assigns, administrators or assigns; A CHILEAN CRISIS

In Spite of Recent Denials and Official Courtships at Washington War is Still Possible.

Plans for Putting an American Army on Chilean Soil Unless the Amende Honorable is Made.

Standing Army to be Utilized for the Service With Miles and Gherardi on Land and Sea.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—The Washington correspondent of the Herald telegraphed that paper, as follows: Chile, feeling that she is in the right, is determined not to apologize, even at the cannon's mouth. Such is the situation upon the diplomatic chess board. Chile has not yet asked for arbitration, but it is known to the cabinet and to your correspondent that she is likely to do so.

Minister Montt, the Chilean minister here, has all along seriously doubted the intention that the government would declare war in event of Chile's refusal to accede to our demands. Today, however, he realized his mistake and the result was that he cabled to President Montt that the situation here was very serious, that this government might fight, and that the navy was rapidly being placed on a war footing. This in itself is startling news and there is more of the same sort. Not only has the navy been made available in event of hostilities, but great activity has taken place in the army and both departments are now ready to act in concert at a moment's notice.

I have it that Admiral Gherardi will be placed in command of the naval forces. It is also pretty definitely settled that Gen. Miles will have command of the land forces. The plans have already been made to promptly move 10,000 troops. The men have been selected, the transports provided and all is ready to place this force on Chilean soil very soon after war is formally declared. It is supposed to take these troops from the regular service. The Western forts which they will leave will be garrisoned by militia and volunteer frontiersmen. Some of them will embark at San Francisco, others at Galveston, New Orleans, Key West and other Southern ports.

Of course a proposition to arbitrate would seriously interfere with all this. Minister Montt, who is an exceedingly cautious man and who is in the habit of advising the home government when it is not believed, there that suggested to President Montt the propriety and advisability of asking this government to lay all the facts in connection with the Baltimore case before a board of arbitration. I am told there is considerable doubt as to just how this suggestion would be received.

THE NAPOLEON OF CRANKS.

He Wanted to Butcher G. W. Childs for Holiday Amusement.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—A man giving his name as J. B. Childs entered the office of George W. Childs on Saturday afternoon and demanded to see Mr. Childs. In reply to a question as to the nature of his business, the man replied: "I intend to kill him." Upon being intercepted by the clerk, the fellow drew a murderous knife but was taken into custody by the police. He was then taken to a physician, who said that he was undoubtedly insane. He was then sent to the Pennsylvania hospital.

Cow Boys Make Others Sing.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 28.—A half dozen cow boys took possession of the south bound train on the International & Great Northern road, forty miles north of here Saturday night. They boarded the train at Buda station and their first act was to force a Chicago drummer off the moving train because he wore a red cravat and high silk hat. They then continued their depredations by making a number of young ladies in the Pullman car sing for them. They enforced all their demands with drawn pistols. They ruled the train for twenty miles, when they stepped off at a way station.

Panic in an English Theater.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Royal theater in Gaietyland, county Durham, last night was the scene of a frightful panic, which at least ten persons, including nine children, were killed outright and many were injured. The sight of a slight blaze caused by a man in the audience dropping a lighted match on the sawdust covered floor caused someone to start the cry of fire, and the fatal panic at once ensued. The fire was quickly extinguished without damage.

Foot Race Winners.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 28.—George Cartwright of Bridgeport, Conn., won the six days go-as-you-please race which terminated here last night. His score was 502 miles and three laps. Pete Hegelman, of New York, was second, 400 miles and 14 laps and Glick, of Philadelphia, third, 472 miles.

Got Seventy Dollars.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—The office of the Ashland paper mill at West Manunk was entered by four masked burglars at early morning yesterday, who bound and gagged the watchman and blew open the safe. The booty they secured, however, barely repaid them for their risk and labor, there being but $70 in the safe.

To Study Our Social Problems.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—M. Paul Deschanel, the distinguished member of the French chamber of deputies, who came to America charged with a special mission by his government, arrived in New York yesterday on board La Champagne. M. Deschanel proposes to spend several months in this country traveling through various states studying the great socialistic and labor questions of the day.

BIG BOSTON BLAZE.

Most Destructive Fire in Two Years Visits the Bay State City.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—The most destructive fire which has raged in this city since the Thanksgiving day blaze of 1889, occurred last night. It was of a somewhat extended area and for a time threatened millions of dollars worth of surrounding property. The total loss is about $500,000. The structure burned is the 4-story and a half brick building with a frontage at 133 and 135 and at 141 Federal street, the rear forming a continuous structure on Federal court with a side frontage of fifty feet on Milton place. It is owned by the Revere heirs and is damaged to the extent of $135,000. Fully insured. The portion of the building with a frontage at 133 and 135 Federal street was occupied by Parker, Holmes & Co., shoe jobbers, whose loss is about $150,000, fully covered by insurance. A portion of the frontage at 141 Federal street was occupied by Hosmer, Coddling & Co., rubber and shoe jobbers, whose loss is estimated at from $200,000 to $225,000, well, but not fully covered by insurance. Cause of fire unknown.

TO SUCCEED PLUMB.

Major Hudson of the Topeka Capital May Be Chosen.

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 28.—Unless all the signs are deceptive the next United States senator from Kansas will be Major G. K. Hudson, editor of the Topeka Capital. Ex-Congressman Perkins is still in the race and so is Benjamin Simpson, but Hudson is strong in the endorsement of the Grand Army, the republican press and the workers. Bets of two to one are offered on his success with no other duty than to head the campaign for Governor Humphrey, who signed with deep attention, but gave no sign as to his determination.

Would Die Together.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 28.—Yesterday W. B. McGregor, a newspaper reporter, and Leah Benjamin, aged 17, who were secretly married, were found dead in a rooming house. McGregor was dead when found; the girl may recover. No cause is known for the act other than the secret of their marriage.

Victoria's Son-in-Law.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—His royal highness Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, the husband of the princess Helena Augusta Victoria, third daughter of the queen of England, who while out shooting had a narrow escape from accidental death on Saturday last at the hands of a Russian hunter, third son of the queen, is said to be recovering.

Phil Armour's Auditor Suicides.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.—Newell J. Miner, Eastern auditor for Armour & Co., committed suicide at Martindale's Turkish bathhouse today.

FOR STARVING RUSSIA.

Col. C. H. Graves Appeals to the People of St. Louis County. To the Citizens of St. Louis County: Having been appointed by the governor of the state commissioner for this purpose to raise contributions of cash, grain or flour in aid of the starving people of Russia, your contributions can be handed in at my office in the Board of Trade building.

With 200,000 people in Russia in a destitute condition, a large majority of them absolutely suffering for food, it is impossible to your sympathy and generosity must be irresistible. They are poor people, not the rulers or nobles, and they need food as much as we do. And this is our opportunity, the like of which will probably never occur again, to show our gratitude for the conduct of Russia in the dark days of our great war, when other great nations of Europe were on the point of hostile action which would have dismembered this republic.

She alone gave positive assistance to Abraham Lincoln and his people, and preserved to us the United States of America. A small contribution from each one of you will aggregate a handsome sum for this country. We propose to use the subscription this week and therefore request an immediate response. Very respectfully yours, C. H. GRAVES, Commissioner.

"A Jolly Surprise."

Boston Advertiser: The title of musical comedy, "A Jolly Surprise," is no misnomer. The piece is one that permits with perfect consistency the introduction of many pleasing specialties, free from farcical vulgarity, and contains an abundance of bright lines sparkling with witticisms that at once appeal to an audience of young and old alike. While Miss Rice is the bright particular star—she has surrounded herself with a very clever company and each one has ample opportunity.

A HOLIDAY QUIET

Little Doing at Washington Except Department Routine During the Recess of Congress.

Navy Department Getting in Shape to Tie a Bow Knot With the Shoe String Republic.

The First of the Year Will Find Several Important Vacancies for the President to Fill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The usual holiday quiet for the week between Christmas and New Year now prevails, and little of general interest will be done till congress re-convenes and begins the long biennial grind. The probabilities are that the session will last far into the summer, if not until the frost is again upon the pumpkin, and the country members hasten home to the harvest or the campaign that will then be on.

Some Vacancies.

The first day of January, 1893, there will be three vacancies on the interstate commerce commission, owing to the resignation of Judge Cooley, of Michigan, the death of Mr. Bragg, of Alabama, and the expiration of the commission of Mr. Morrison, of Illinois. It is authoritatively stated that Mr. Morrison will be reappointed. A lively fight is in progress over the other two places, Mr. Clements, of Georgia, and Mr. Adams, of Arkansas, being the leading candidates for the vacancy caused by Mr. Bragg's death.

Demographers May Demolish.

The treasury department has decided that the author of the work on demography may present a copy of his work to certain scientific institutions in the United States and that it will be admitted for such purposes into the treasury department has also decided that drawback is allowable on exported Easter pomace.

Powder for the Marines.

The navy department has ordered the shipment of 42,000 pounds of prismatic powder and 11,000 sacks of inch-shells from League Island, Pa. to San Francisco. The department has also ordered the new 12-inch gun made at the Washington navy yard to be sent to San Francisco. The gun will be placed on a large flat car and taken to the Pacific coast as soon as possible.

No Pardon for Harper.

The president today refused to grant a pardon to Edward L. Harper, convicted and sentenced to years imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary for wrecking the Fidelity National bank of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Great activity exists at the Itasca Lumber company's camps at Bass brook. Hauling has been going on for 10 weeks, during which time 8,500,000 feet of logs has been dumped on the Mississippi.

A few days ago Wm. Kennebec, cook for the Itasca Lumber company at Bass brook, was run over by a Duluth & Winnipeg train and cut in pieces. He was on the track in a drunken sleep.

The interior of the Union depot is about as it has been for some time; the plumbing is not done and part of the roofing is to be put on. It will be well along in the New Year before it is open.

The decision of the World's Fair association revoking the license of Prof. A. B. de Guerville as lecturer has been reversed, a satisfactory explanation of the charges against him having been made.

The Endion baptist Sunday school holds Christmas entertainment this evening at 6:30. A cantata, "Santa Claus and Mother Goose" will be given and presents distributed among the scholars.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at the Pioneer Fair company's office, hotel St. Louis, 356 Superior street: 12 m., 11°; 3 p.m., 6°; 6 p.m., 11°; 9 p.m., 14°; 7 a.m., 23°; 9 a.m., 27°; 12 m., 29°. Maximum, 29°; minimum, 11°; daily range, 28°.

Scotland is moving in the matter of home rule and some communication has been had between the leaders of the movement and Scotch citizens of Duluth with a view to organizing a local club here. Some, however, express the opinion that Scotland will not come to away from home to get all she wants.

The citizens at East Superior are making great efforts to secure the reinstatement of W. O. Rogers, who was recently disappeared for a few days, as station agent at that place. Prior to his recent escape, Mr. Rogers had conducted himself in a manner that won for him the esteem of all.

The scenery, properties and steam fire engine belonging to the Midnight Alarm company, which went up at Superior two weeks ago, have just been attached for salary due. The principal actors of the company have severed their connection with the troupe. Messrs. Langdon, Glassford and Fisher and wife, have gone to New York.

The Herald has been pleasantly remembered with a box of W. A. Foote & Co.'s favorite Endion cigars, and also a box of a choice brand from General Agent Larke, of the South Shore road. For these expressions of good will The Herald entertains at all times a sincere regard, and trusts that when the donors weary of merriment their spirits may ascend as gently as their cigars go up in smoke.

An Afflicted Child.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hunter are sorely afflicted and their trouble has brought them the sympathy of all who know them. A short time ago their little daughter Julia, aged 5, was down with scarlet fever, and when the sickness left her both hearing and sight were found to be impaired. Last week they had a specialist for the little one's relief and he said that the chances were that the little girl will be permanently blind in at least one eye and possibly deaf. An operation was performed Friday, yesterday the child was worse, several physicians were in attendance all night and today the specialist was again sent for. It is thought that the child may not live.

THE CHAMBER TUESDAY.

A Meeting Called at Which a General Attendance is Desired.

There is to be a general meeting tomorrow of all members of the chamber of commerce. Several matters of importance will come up, notably the report of the committee on an industrial association, to be formed to encourage manufactures and jobbing interests. To this will be appended a draft of articles of incorporation of such an organization. A brief terminal report will also be made and the proposed Montreal excursion, which may also take in Ottawa, will be discussed.

New Resolutions

For 1892. I am going to suggest a few that will pay you if you will carry them out. First, that you will buy for cash at the spot cash grocery.

That you will buy maple sugar from us, because we have the finest on earth at $1.25 per gallon which will cost you $1.50 elsewhere.

That you will buy Royal baking powder at 44 cents per pound, full weight, Baker's chocolate at 35 cents per pound, pure pepper, ground, at 25 cents per pound.

That you will patronize us for everything your want in the grocery line, such as pickles, olives, preserves, sauces, jellies, jams, mince meat, extracts, spices, macaroni, vermicelli, tapioca, sago, rice and everything you may want.

MANY BRIDGE IDEAS

The Board of Public Works Overwhelmed by Canal Bridge Plans Brought Out by the $100,000 Prize Offer.

It is Spending Its Time Just Now in Opening Those Received From Bridge Engineers Everywhere.

Many Meet With High Approval and Many are on Designs That are New and Original.

The board of public works is busy today opening a large number of plans submitted by engineers of prominence from all over the country for a bridge across the canal. The person or firm that submits what competent judges consider the best plan will receive a prize of $1000 and will probably be given the superintendence of the work if the city builds the bridge.

Oscar Sanne, of Milwaukee, submits plans for a drawbridge at a cost of $400,000. W. L. Stebbings, of Chicago, the bridge engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern road, who is here in person, has figured for a novel structure, which consists of a pontoon draw and an approach that can be raised to allow the draw to slide under it when it is necessary.

The estimate is $215,143. J. A. L. Waddell, of Kansas City, who is here in person, has submitted two designs. His favorite is a lift bridge with a steel tower of 130 feet at either end, over which cables are operated to lift the bridge. The lifting is done by electricity, aided by a counter balance of 300,000 pounds at each end, or 1,000,000 pounds in all, equal to the weight of the bridge.

Cost of bridge and that part of the approach belonging to the bridge, $105,000. His second design shows a rectangular rolling double draw, provided with approaches that slide sideways a distance of 50 feet to allow the draw to roll back. The roadway is 12 feet above grade. Cost, including movable approaches, $154,000. Mr. Waddell designed the Rock Rock bridge over the Colorado river near the Needles, between California and Arizona, which is the longest cantilever in the world, having a span of 660 feet. He is the chief engineer of the Pacific Short Line Bridge company, and also of the Inter-State Bridge & Street Railway company of Omaha, which is about to build the largest bridge of its kind in the world.

Robt. E. McMath & Sons, of Detroit, submit plans for a double draw, wherein there is no lifting, but the draw slides back down a grade. The railroad tracks are placed above the roadway for teams. Cost, $100,000. John A. Keedling's Sons, Co., of New York, named after the man who built the Brooklyn bridge, provide for a double lift. There are two steel towers, 135 feet high, over which run cables that pull a single end of each draw up to any angle required. The steam is operated by electricity and is aided by weights. Cost, not including foundations, $40,000. E. B. Jennings, Springfield, Mass., puts in a plan for a drawbridge to cost $170,000 and for a bridge to work on a pivot on a vertical direction to cost $200,000. J. A. McNeil, Providence, R. I., estimates the superstructure on a single draw on a level with the street at $125,000. Benjamin F. La Rue, of Jackson, Mich., submits a design for a bridge that will swing about a pivot on one end, the power to be furnished by a tug on which the other end will rest. The cost is placed at $108,000. A. S. Cooper, of West Superior, submits a plan for a $78,000 swing bridge and also a plan for a lift draw. He reckons his concrete foundations at $12 a yard, which is cheaper than the gravel can be furnished for.

New York.—The market is booming at a very lively rate and the anticipation that the advance would stop after Christmas seems to have been mistaken. In the last week the increase in the number of sales gave evidence of the durability of prices and the fact that a advance was taken of a few days intervening between the holidays to do in them the business of the week. The market has not been so strong as it was at the beginning of the year is at hand and this means activity in the money market. While it cannot be doubted that the market has not reached its highest figures, the time when these figures will be attained it is not safe to predict, and even advancing markets are subject to relapses from day to day.

THE MINING LEASE LAW

16s Value, Both to the State and the Individual Fully Shown, Says George C. Stone, Its Projector.

In but a Few Years Great Wealth Will Flow to the State From Its Operation.

The Duluth & Iron Range Probably to Build a Considerable Number of Cars This Winter.

"Minnesota will in a few years have in her coffers an enormous capital," said Geo. C. Stone, who came up from St. Paul this morning. "In fact her school and other funds will be larger than those of any other state in the Union. And I am glad that I took an important part in making it possible for her treasury to be thus rapidly filled."

Whereby the great increase in these funds come from do you ask? From the mineral lands owned by the state.

Some two or three years ago I conceived the idea that the state would do better by withdrawing all her mining lands in the Mesabi and Vermilion ranges from sale and leasing them on terms that would not hinder their development. And so a law was passed in accordance with a plan outlined by myself. This is the first and only state in the country to pass such a law, and already its benefit to the state and the public in general is to be seen in the fact that in a single day nearly $2000 has been paid for leases.

For $25 anybody can secure for a year a permit to explore and prospect on any acre tract owned by the state on those ranges. At the end of the year for $100 the right can be extended for another year. At the end of either the first or second year, the person who has been exploring can secure, as against all other persons, a lease of the tract for five years. The terms of the lease are that $100 a year royalty must be paid until a railroad comes within three miles of the property, and after that a royalty of 30 cents per ton per year on at least 5000 tons of ore. Any person can take any number of tracts. The new law has already resulted in an enormous amount of prospecting and the discovery of several fine mines, some of which will pay an unusually great sum to the state. This is apparent when you remember that the Chandler, which occupies only two tracts, has paid as high as $50,000 royalty in a year.

"The new law insures the exploration of every foot of state land in the two iron belts, and if there is any iron on any of them it will be discovered right away, instead of lying unused for many decades."

BUILDING ONE CAR.

The Duluth & Iron Range Sends Out an Improved Car for Bids.

The Duluth & Iron Range will send a sample ore car just finished at its own shops, embodying many improvements within the country to prospective bidders on additional equipment. The car will be inspected by the Duluth Manufacturing company with a view to bidding on a lot to be built this winter.

The road has not yet decided just what it will do in the way of new cars, but will probably build from 100 to 200 possibly more, on the new style. It is expected to have them ready early next season.

GARZA'S WARRIORS

They are Making Things Merry for the Military on the Banks of the Rio Grande.

Consul Lomeda at Laredo Declares That Garza is After Yankees More Than Greasers.

Mexican Troops are in Hot Pursuit, and Soon the Little Revolution Will Revolve.

LAREDO, Texas, Dec. 29.—Thirty-three carloads of Mexican troops, comprising about 800 men arrived in New Laredo, Mexico, from Saltillo last night. This seems to indicate that the reports of advantages gained along the border by Garza are not altogether wrong. These newly arrived troops will proceed down the river at once. A rumor has gained circulation in this city that the three revolutionists who were captured by the Mexican troops at the skirmish last night were convicted and shot this evening at sunset. Inquiry has failed to trace the report to any reliable source. Considerable uneasiness is expressed for a company of United States cavalry which left last Friday for some point down the river without taking guide. Nothing has been heard from them since their departure.

The Mexican authorities deny the existence of any serious trouble on Mexican territory. Reports from reliable sources, however, announce several fights with results favoring the revolutionists. The officers in command of Fort McIntosh claim that all the losses have been on the Garza side, but parties who know the facts say that the revolutionists have had the best of every engagement.

Mexican Consul Lomeda has furnished a San Antonio paper with a statement in which he denies that Gen. Ruiz Sandoval is in the mountains of Coahuila with a force ready to join Garza. Despite Garza's pronouncements Lomeda makes the remarkable assertion that he is rather inclined to think that Garza's forces are, and have been intended, more to fight the government of the United States than that of Mexico, and points to the fact that the revolutionary recruits have been among the citizens of this country. Garza himself being one of them. In spite of the Spanish name and that of most of his followers, Garza, he claims, organizes his forces on American territory, forcibly takes horses, cattle and forage from American ranches, obtains ammunition and everything else from this country and finally fights American troops, having killed and wounded several of them. The consul further asserts that Garza does not intend to invade Mexico, and only crosses the Rio Grande when hard pressed as was the case after the fight with Capt. Bourke's men.

"His company," he says, "took up the line of march today from Ft. McIntosh to assist in capturing the scattered cohorts of Garza in the jungles of the lower Rio Grande."

THE BORDER LAND.

Military Activities by the American Forces on the Rio Grande.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 29.—There is great activity at the military headquarters here this morning. The two troops of cavalry that have been ordered to the scene of war on the frontier by Gen. David Stanley, commander of the department, will leave tonight on a special train. They will be equipped for rough field service and well supplied with arms and ammunition. Word was received from Austin this morning that the state rangers are preparing to make hurried march to the border. Their duty will be mostly that of guarding river crossings. There are also a large force of special duty United States marshals stationed at different points on the frontier who have instructions to arrest all Mexicans suspected of being revolutionists. The commanding officer at Fort Clark was authorized by Gen. Stanley to recall First Lieut. Charles L. Steel, of the Eighteenth infantry from Rio Grande where he is surveying. The transportation facilities with him are required for service with the troops in the field after Garza.

Down in Argentine. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres, Argentine, says there is a spirit of struggle in Rio de Janeiro. The president, Gen. Rios, is expected to be elected. It is expected that the United States warship Yanic will arrive in the Rio de Janeiro today. Three other ships of the American white squadron have been sighted off the coast. The action of the supreme court in surrendering Chiasso, the soldier, to the military tribunal, is condemned by public opinion.

Children Kidnapped. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 29.—Miss Hattie Lewis, of this city, reports her little sister and brother, George and Annie, are missing. The parents at Stephenson, Ala., sent a blind neighbor to look for them. The action of the supreme court in surrendering Chiasso, the soldier, to the military tribunal, is condemned by public opinion.

Corbett Applauded. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—James J. Corbett, the champion boxer of California, met with a remarkable reception at the Peoples theater last night when he appeared to spar three rounds with Jim Daily, of Philadelphia, in the "After Dark" show. The spectators, men and women alike, showed their kindly feeling for the Californian as against Mitchell, the Englishman, and they cheered and clapped at Corbett for a minute before they got through. During the rounds when Corbett displayed some of his cleverest points, the house applauded time and time again.

McEnery Accepts. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.—James McEnery this morning sent to Senator Jones his letter of acceptance of the democratic nomination for governor unanimously tendered him by the Baton Rouge convention.

The Good Gray Post. CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 29.—Walt Whitman is better today.

NEW YORK CONTESTS.

The Court of Appeals Decides Several Senatorial Cases Today.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 29.—The decision in the election cases by the court of appeals gives the senate to the democrats. The Twenty-fifth and Twenty-seventh districts are decided in favor of the republicans and the Fifteenth and Sixteenth in favor of the democrats. The court decides against senatorial claimants Peck, Dean and Sherwood and declares Derby elected. The decisions in the second count he is charged with killing her by administering arsenic to her; the third count charges him with having caused her to take the poison, which caused her death. Judge Rising then explained what murder was and continued: "The law presumes the defendant innocent until he is proven guilty without doubt. You should act on the presumption that he is innocent until you have weighed the evidence. The fact that he has been indicted is no evidence of his guilt."

The judge then proceeded to instruct the jury and then Mr. Pence addressed the jury for prosecution.

AWAY IN INDIA. Congress Convened at the Town of Serpents in that Far-off Land.

BOMBAY, Dec. 29.—The Indian national congress opened today at Nagpoor, "town of Serpents," capital of the Nagpoor district and of the central provinces. There were 800 delegates present.

CHARLU, a Brahmin, was elected president of the congress. In his opening address the president alluded to the death of Charles Bradlaugh, the noted English free-thinker, who he said, was during his life a champion of India in and out of the imperial parliament.

ROBBING THE PEASANTS. How Dust is Sold the Russian Poor for Flour.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 29.—The authorities are appalled at the display of enterprise on the part of a Russian newspaper. It appears that the urban committee of St. Petersburg recently bought with city money, for the benefit of the starving, 200,000 pounds of barley flour.

THE NEWSPAPER Novoe Vremya, having suspicions as to the honesty of the transaction investigated and found that the purchase was fraudulent, the greater part of the flour being dust and refuse. The paper published the story and there is widespread indignation against those responsible for the purchase and who are supposed to have divided the larger part of the money among them. The paper is applauded for its course and while the authorities have not interfered to stop the exposure it is said that the action of the paper regarded in high quarters with considerable aversion.

BIDS FOR ONE DOCKS. Nineteen Received for the Iron Range Road's Big New Dock.

The Duluth & Iron Range railroad yesterday afternoon received 19 bids for building its new dock. The firms that entered into competition are located in every part of the country. The successful bidder will not be announced for several days.

IT will be 500 feet long and will increase the dock shipping capacity of the road to about 1,300,000 tons of ore per year. It will be 5 1/2 feet high, the highest ore dock on the lakes by 1/2 feet, and will cost about $75,000. Some 2,500,000 feet of timber will be used in its construction. The dock will probably be lengthened to 1,000 feet before a second year.

A NEW PARK MEMBER. Hoped He Will be a Man With an Eye For the Beautiful.

The term of W. K. Rogers as member of the city park commission will expire on Feb. 1, and within a month Mayor Davis and the district court judges will appoint his successor. Mr. Rogers has not attended any of the meetings since the reorganization of the board, as he has been out of town about all the time. Mayor Davis is in favor of an east end man for the vacant seat, the other parts of the city are already well represented, the central portion by Messrs. Mendenhall and Silberstein and the west end by Mr. Holman.

There is many amount of good timber in the east end and there ought to be no difficulty in obtaining just the right man for the place.

First Methodist Sunday School. The annual election of the First Methodist Sunday school was held last evening. Officers were elected as follows: S. B. Foote, superintendent; R. H. Harris, Mrs. J. H. Harris, assistant superintendents; Bert Randall, secretary; Thomas Jamieson, treasurer; S. S. Meyers, chorister; Miss Kidd, organist; Mrs. Scovell, pianist; Donald McLeod, violinist. The school has about 200 regularly in attendance and is in a most flourishing condition.

In Municipal Court. Thomas Morris was sentenced to 60 days this morning for the larceny of goods from the store of C. W. Erickson. Jake Mesher went to jail for 10 days for cruelty to a horse, which consisted of driving him fast though badly wounded.

"A Jolly Surprise." The Fanny Rice company gave an excellent performance last evening at the Lyceum. The play is full of fun and causes much merriment. It is a surprise in that it is comparatively free from the usual vulgarity of the skit, and in that its music is bright and catchy. Fanny Rice herself, as well as her company, were excellent actors and actresses.

SAD TALE OF WOE

How a Belle of Tennessee Brings Disaster Upon Relatives and Friends.

Three Youths are Already Dead and the Work of Destruction is Hardly Yet Begun.

All are of High Social Distinction and Come From the First Families of the State.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 29.—Fentress county, on the upper Tennessee, is ablaze with a sensation which resulted in the death of three men and the disgrace of three of the first families of Tennessee, and it all came of a scandal about a woman. Marion and Dave Beatty and Gwin Bowden lie dead in their mansions, and Edward Harris, their murderer, is a fugitive from justice with a $500 reward offered for his apprehension and delivery at Jamestown.

Three months ago Mary Beatty, sister of the dead men, and the belle of the Upper Tennessee country, retired from society and people wondered at her privacy. Then it became known about that the lady had suddenly become a runaway and for a time it seemed there would be trouble over the scandalous rumor. The sensation was substantiated some time after by the sudden arrest of Clayborne Beatty, a banker, and the richest man in the county, at the instigation of the girl, his daughter, who charged him with the great wrong. This stirred up a hornet's nest, and so fearful were the jailer and the sheriff of a mob, that they removed him from the jail and into another county for safe keeping.

Neighbors and friends began to take sides, some with the wronged girl, others with the father. Finally Beatty gave a $5000 bond and hid out. Mary Beatty went to live with some distant relations, Harris' family, who lived at Alford not far from Jamestown. People were beginning to forget the affair, when the old story broke out afresh in the triple murder. Monday the Harris family accompanied by Mary Beatty, came to town to do some trading and to appear before the grand jury to indict her father. Beatty was there with their friends and relatives and mutterings and threats began to follow. Court adjourned at 4 o'clock and after making some purchases the Harris family and Mary Beatty started home. When the Harris family left the court house yard the three, Gwin Bowden and the Beatty brothers, mounted their horses and followed them. One mile from town, in front of Marion Beatty, several feet in front of his two companions, rode up to the side of the wagon and snapped out, "Mary we have had enough of this foolishness, we want you to come home."

The girl colored visibly and replied, "I would rather be dead than to go with you again," and turning to young Ed Harris, who had stopped the team, she ordered him to drive on. Marion Beatty commanded the young fellow to be still and laying his hand on his horse's head said to Mary with an oath, "If you won't go home we'll leave you here—out of you," and with that he cut her a cruel lash across the face with his whip. She screamed and fell fainting to the bottom of the wagon. Harris, indignantly, dismounted and sprang to his feet and spoke vigorously to the three. "Take the same medicine you imposed on me," said Beatty in reply, and he lashed Harris three times with the whip.

The next moment young Harris had drawn a 44-caliber revolver and presented it at Marion and drew the trigger. A puff and a report and Marion Beatty fell dead from his horse with a bullet through his heart. By this time Dave Beatty clutched at Mary's shield and Harris struck him with the butt of the revolver, breaking his skull. The three then sprang to his feet and spoke vigorously to the three. "Take the same medicine you imposed on me," said Beatty in reply, and he lashed Harris three times with the whip.

CLOSE OF THE GRAVES TRIAL.

The Evidence all in and the Judge Instructs the Jury.

DESVIER, Col., Dec. 29.—E. S. Worrell, was called in rebuttal and testified that the bottle was full when it was placed on the table in his house. This closed the testimony and Judge Rising immediately began reading his instructions to the jury. He said: "The indictment contains three counts. In the first one Dr. Graves is charged with having killed Josephine Barnaby; in the second count he is charged with killing her by administering arsenic to her; the third count charges him with having caused her to take the poison, which caused her death." Judge Rising then explained what murder was and continued: "The law presumes the defendant innocent until he is proven guilty without doubt.
